Economics Department
University of Colorado-Boulder

Plagiarism: Portrayal of another's work or ideas as one's own

Plagiarism of research or proposed research in a PhD program is an offense of first-order importance. Plagiarism of research in a PhD program by a student threatens the reputation of the professors involved, the department, and the careers of all other graduate students in that department.

By completing and signing this cover sheet, the student affirms that they have maintained appropriate standards of academic honesty in producing this work. Check each item and sign at the bottom.

This assignment is my own original work.

I have acknowledged all instances in which I have borrowed ideas or language from other work (whether similar or identical to the work here) by citing where appropriate both in the text and in the list of references.

I have acknowledged all instances in which I have directly borrowed language from another text by placing the material in quotes and citing the page number of the originating document.
