Each student's weighted average score will be calculated, and a nal letter grade will be computed based on a curve that ensures that the distribution of grades will be similar to that observed in other sections of ECON3070.

4   Course Website

Students should enroll in this course's Canvas webpage. This syllabus will be posted there, along with problem sets, lecture notes, announcements, grades, and the online textbook.

5   Textbook

The primary textbook for the course is Microeconomics, 9th edition, by Robert Pindyck and Daniel Rubinfeld. An online version of the textbook is provided by default for $80 as part of the CU's Selct Access program, and will be available via the course's Canvas website (via the \Access Pearson" tab). You may also choose to pay for your textbooks textbooks for all of your classes via the Book Access program with a single $269 fee. If you wish to opt out of purchasing the online version of the textbook, you must do so by September 11th in order to avoid being billed. Because the content and sequence of lectures closely follows the book, and all extra practice problems are taken from the book, buying the textbook is extremely strongly encouraged. However, not all lecture material will be covered in the textbook, and not all textbook material will be covered in class. Furthermore, all problem sets and exams will be based only on the content covered in lecture. Thus, purchase of the textbook is not explicitly required.

6   iClicker Student App

Students are required to purchase an iClicker Student App subscription for this class. iClicker information will be used to help determine your attendance and participation grade. You are responsible for setting up the iClicker Student App application by the rst day of class, August 26th. Information on how to register for an account is available at `https://oit.colorado.edu/tutorial/cuclickers-set-iclicker-reef-student-account`. 10.3   Preferred Student Names and Pronouns

CU Boulder recognizes that students' legal information doesn't always align with how they identify. Students may update their preferred names and pronouns via the student portal; those preferred names and pronouns are listed on instructors' class rosters. In the absence of such updates, the name that appears on the class roster is the student's legal name.

10.4   Honor Code

All students enrolled in a University of Colorado Boulder course are responsible for knowing and adhering to the Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code may include but are not limited to: plagiarism (including use of paper writing services or technology [such as essay manner. If you expect to miss an exam in order to observe a religious holiday, you must communicate this request to the professor prior to Tuesday, August 31st.
